

Meet Jan Bockmaster

Jan is a lifelong resident of K-W whose career in community relations, marketing and international student engagement helped her build lasting connections to many diverse organizations and people throughout Waterloo Region.

She has served on many boards and committees and is a graduate of Leadership Waterloo Region.

Jan loves having the time to give back to her community through volunteering and nurturing her creative outbursts.

Since childhood, Jan has had a passion for animal welfare and every home in which she's lived has been run by more than a few furry creatures.
