ON DECEMBER 1ST, DONATIONS MADE TO THE HUMANE SOCIETY'S GIVING TUESDAY CAMPAIGN WILL BE DOUBLED.

KITCHENER WATERLOO STRATFORD PERTH, ONTARIO: This Giving Tuesday, donations made to the Kitchener Waterloo & Stratford Perth Humane Society will help twice as many vulnerable animals in our communities, thanks to the generosity of Skedaddle Humane Wildlife Control.

"Since we've partnered with Skedaddle 8 years ago, they have donated over $14,000 to our Humane Society" said Nick Burke, Director of Development. "They are a great partner and we hope that their kindness inspires the community to give generously."

"Skedaddle plays an active role in the community by partnering with many local SPCAs and Humane Societies, participating in events, sponsoring and donating annually." said Ryan Rainville, Skedaddle's spokesperson. "We also take great pride in sharing the knowledge we've gained about urban wildlife over the past 30 years by speaking at community events and kids' camps."

On December 1st ONLY, donations made to the Humane Society's Giving Tuesday campaign will be matched 100% by Skedaddle Humane Wildlife Control.

"This time of year can be particularly tough for pet owners." shared Kathrin Delutis, Executive Director. "In the recent weeks, we've seen an increase in the number of stray, abandoned and abused animals being brought to the Humane Society. We rely on the support from our community to help us foster, adopt and provide funds to care for these animals."

December also marks the beginning of the Humane Society's Hope for the Holidays Campaign. Individuals are encouraged to Adopt, Extend, Give or Gift to help the Humane Society continue caring for the animals in need – a service that is not funded by the government and is strictly reliant upon the open-handedness of the local community.
