HUMANE SOCIETY'S HOMEWARD BOUND GALA IS BACK

KITCHENER, ONTARIO: Canadian comedian Graham Chittenden is gracing the stage yet again in support of the animals at the Humane Society of Kitchener Waterloo & Stratford Perth (HSKWSP). HSKWSP's annual Homeward Bound Gala returns on June 24th at the beautiful NithRidge Estates in Ayr. This year's event will boast of a night full of laughter paired with an incredible three-course meal provided by Chef D's culinary team.

"It's the perfect way to support the animals in our care. The funds go directly to animals like Hope, who need extra medical care and attention," stated Nick Burke, director of development, HSKWSP. "Hope came to us in November 2021. She had significant hair loss on her body and suffered from skin allergies and hypothyroidism. Hope has been receiving medical care from us for the past six months and is now up for adoption."

This year, the in-person event is being sponsored by Wells Resolutions, Eric Margolis Foundation and City Limits Dog Boarding. The event will feature a comedic performance by Chittenden, who has performed all across Canada and abroad, as well as a silent auction and raffle.

"This is our second in-person event this year, and we are thrilled to be back," stated Kathrin Delutis, chief executive officer, HSKWSP. "As a charity that receives no level of government funding for our programs and services, our fundraisers provide crucial funds to support people and pets in our communities."

Tickets are on sale for $100 each. Shared and exclusive corporate tables are available starting at $500. A shared table includes four event tickets, a networking opportunity with another business and brand awareness. An exclusive table includes eight event tickets, a VIP experience with front-row seating, drink tickets, and brand awareness, including a logo display on the table and social media posts.
